

Welcome Back

What We Have Covered So Far

- Yesterday: general aspects of educational psychology and pedagogy
- Today: how to use them to teach effective workshops
- Key points:
 - We (experts) guide learners (novices) to build a working mental model (do not focus on details)
 - Frequent feedback to monitor your teaching
 - Only a few concepts to avoid cognitive overload
 - Motivation -> teach something immediately useful and be enthusiastic
 - Teaching is a learned skill

Your Questions from Day 1
